

Here is how to use the built-in function of the Android phone for mirroring the screen to Roku:

1. Pull down the top screen to open your control system.
2. Click on the smart view option, and tap on “next”.
3. Now tap on “continue”; you will see different devices here.

4. Click on your TV name where you want to mirror your Android phone.
5. You are done now. You can stream anything on the big screen.

*** Android 4 or higher devices support mirroring without any help from third-party apps. Each manufacturer has its own mirroring software, so you might need to look up your manufacturer's given instructions.
